Falmouth University End of Year Fashion Show

Written by James Richards, Year 10

A group of Year 10 students took part in a fashion show at Falmouth University recently. After looking around the amazing facilities and art students' work in the Design Centre, we watched the graduates' fashion garments being worn on the catwalk.

Two photography students worked alongside the fashion photography team to document the show. At the end we modelled our own designs which were inspired by a hexagonal shape, which we had previously created from a workshop with Claire Barker Phillips, a course leader at Falmouth. Claire selected Laura Przybysz as a student whose work stood out the most. Laura was presented with a gift for achieving 'Up and Coming Fashion Designer'.

Future Stars visit Krowji Open Studios

Written by Phoebe Lay, Year 7

When we went to Krowji we saw everything from paintings and clay to colour changing glass! Anything you could think of was there. This trip was very inspiring because we got to talk to artists and hear why they have decided to do what they do. Being able to see this amazing art has definitely inspired many people.

Truffle Sale

On Friday the 25th of May, four Year 8 students opened a cake stall, selling truffles and slices of rocky road, combined with a raffle to win a third of a Victoria sponge. The money raised was donated to Cancer Research. £50 was raised from selling everything. Derek, Shana, Tara and Holly are now working on their next fundraising initiative.

Head's Breakfast

Students were delighted to enjoy breakfast with Headteacher, Mr Martin in recognition of their commitment to maintaining high standards throughout the school in work, behaviour and positive attitudes.

Dance Audition

Good luck to Year 10 student, Jago Mottart, who has been invited to audition for a new major production by Sir Matthew Bourne.

Jago applied to be part of the young dance cast via video submission after Matthew Bourne's company New Adventures advertised nationally for dancers who will be between 16 and 20 years old in 2019 to be part of his new production.

Jago is one of the few applicants to make the cut for audition. He will spend a day in June with the company as part of the audition process, where they will reduce the cast down to the final ten.

Career Pilot

Careerpilot is a website for both young people and their parents/carers to use to find out detailed information..

The site helps young people explore their options and make informed decisions about future study and work.

Cornwall Youth Select European Tournament

Four Year 8 students, Sam James, Ben Grimstead, Louie Fowler-Beaton and Jack Adams, took part in a European Football Tournament in Bad Bentheim, Germany recently.

Teams from Switzerland, Holland, Germany, France and the UK, competed in the Denekamp International Tournament.

Playing for the Cornwall Wolves and Hawks, both teams came through the group stages and semi finals to play against each other in the final! The Cornwall Hawks clinched victory with a 1 - 0 win. Sam Buckley, Year 11 student, also took part in the tournament, playing with the Cornwall Jaguars, who were also successful in their age group, winning the tournament. Well done to all who took part.

Cornwall Healthy Schools Bronze Award

Congratulations to members of the Student Council, who have succeeded in meeting the required standard to achieve the bronze award in PADL (Promoting Active Democracy Loudly).
